BRITAIN COUNTS ON PUBLIC IN STRIKE

Cabinet and Board of Trade Depend Upon Pressure of Opinion

END OF WALKOUT SEEN

Irresponsible Members of Unemployed Parade Blamed For Rioting—Parliament to Act.

London, Oct. 19.—The Government is fixed in its purpose not to intervene with any conciliatory gesture between the coal miners and the public. They believe that the miners will wear themselves out beating against the stone wall of public disapproval. That is the official attitude of the Cabinet and the Board of Trade, the two Government agencies chiefly concerned in the industrial battle.

The outbreak in Whitehall today has aroused the fear in some quarters that the struggle will not be without its terrorism. But officials point out that the rioting was not solely the result of the coal situation. It was one of those sporadic outbreaks that might have arisen in any industrial crisis where thousands of men have been thrown out of work.

The Government will not lift a hand to run the mines. That much is certain. The shutdown is complete. Not a union miner in the United Kingdom is working. But not a strikebreaker will be sent into the pits as long as the strike is in force.

The Government is not alarmed at the attitude, threatening as it is, of the railway and transport workers. They declare that the triple alliance repudiated the miners three weeks ago when they informed Smillie that they were supporting them only momentarily. The miners immediately withdrew from the sessions of the triple alliance and have not attended a meeting since.

On the other hand, J. H. Thomas, M. P., president of the railway workers' organization, declares there will be no intervention "unless the miners request it." In the meantime there was a threatening movement this morning when the transport workers decided to send a delegation to the Ministry of Labor in connection with their own demands for increased wages.

Thousands of transport men and dockers already are idle through enforced shutdowns at docks and depots. It is hoped by some Government officials that this situation may lead to a request for intervention or mediation.

Members of the Board of Trade predict that the coal strike will last for two weeks, after which some kind of a settlement to enable the leaders to save their faces may be effected.

Steel works are the only industrial plants thus far seriously affected by the strike. Other mills will continue to operate, it is said, as long as they have any coal on hand.

An official declaration came from the Government today to reassure the people. It declared that the food and fuel situation is sound, and that there is plenty of railway coal, thousands of tons of surplus fuel having been piled up during the past months. Consequently, unless the transport and railway men go out, the Government declares the country can exist on its present stores.

At Downing street it was reiterated today that the doors are open for suggestions from the miners, and that the Cabinet would agree to either of two measures—the creation of an impartial tribunal to try the case, or the immediate granting of the desired increase of two shillings a day, upon the miners' promise to guarantee increased production.

Parliament will consider the strike tomorrow and take up the Irish situation on Wednesday. Lloyd George is remaining in the country until the last minute, and was playing golf Monday.

The rioting yesterday afternoon in which about 50 persons were injured, resulted when the parade of unemployed, intended to be a quiet and peaceful demonstration to Parliament, broke bounds and developed into the worst stick-and-stone battle between Metropolitan Bobbies and civilians since the modern labor movement.

HARDING SAYS ENVOY NOT SENT

Writes President His Advisers Spoke Only For French People

TEXT OF LETTER GIVEN

Wilson Directs Inquiry to Qualify Orsay Regarding Incident—More Than a Private Citizen

Marion, Ohio, Oct. 19.—Replying to an inquiry from President Wilson, Senator Harding wrote the White House last night that although France had sent her "spokesman" to him informally asking America to lead the way for an association of nations the incident had not involved the French Government in any violation of international proprieties.

The Senator declared that in his reference to the subject in a speech at Greencastle, Ind., recently, he only had sought to convey the thought that there had come to him "those who spoke a sentiment which they represented to be very manifest among the French people." He added that his words "could not be construed to say that the French Government has sent anybody to me."

Referring to Mr. Wilson's suggestion of impropriety in a foreign nation approaching "a private citizen" on such a subject, Senator Harding pointed out that he is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee as well as a nominee for the Presidency, and suggested that "an informal expression to me is rather more than that to a private citizen."

The text of Senator Harding's letter sent in reply to one from the President, asking whether the Senator had been correctly quoted in his Greencastle speech, follows:

"Dear Mr. President—I have before me a press copy of your letter to me of this date, though I am not in receipt of the original copy. I am glad to make a prompt reply.

"It is very gratifying that you hesitate to draw inferences without my assurance that I am correctly quoted. The quotation as reported in your letter is not exact. The notes of the stenographer reporting my remarks quote me as saying 'France has sent her spokesmen to me informally asking America in its new realization of the situation to lead the way for an association of nations.'

"I am sure that my words could not be construed to say that the French Government has sent anybody to me. The thought I was trying to convey was that there had come to me those who spoke a sentiment which they represented to be very manifest among the French people, but nothing could suggest the French Government having violated the proprieties of international relations. Official France would never seek to go over your high office as our Chief Executive to appeal to the American people for any portion thereof.

"I can see no impropriety in private citizens of France or in Americans deeply friendly to France, expressing to me their understanding of sentiment in that friendly republic.

"It is not important enough to discuss, perhaps, but I very respectfully urge that an informal expression to me is rather more than that to a private citizen. I hold a place as a member of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate, which is charged with certain constitutional authority in dealing with foreign relations, and I am necessarily conscious that I am the nominee of the Republican party for President of our republic.

"In the combination of these two positions it ought not to be unreasonably that some very devoted friends of a new and better relationship among nations, no matter whence they come should wish to advise men relative to aspirations to co-operate with our own people in attaining that high purpose. Let me assure you again of the observance of all the proprieties and again assert that the French Government has maintained that great respect for your position to which I myself subscribe.

"With great respect I am, very truly, "Warren G. Harding."

Anti Tuberculosis

Sale of Christmas Seals and "Health Bonds" Begins Thanksgiving.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Alexandria Anti-Tuberculosis Society held last Tuesday evening, the visiting nurse reported the following calls made during September: Metropolitan Insurance Co., cases 117 Others cases 113

Total 230

A free clinic for those suspecting tubercular trouble and desiring a thorough examination of the lungs is held every Wednesday from 1 to 2 p. m., near the city health office in the City Hall.

Mrs. Thomas W. Robinson, the president of the society made an enthusiastic report of the conference which she, as delegate attended in Richmond, October 8th and 9th. This was a largely attended gathering of representatives of the Tuberculosis Associations of the North Atlantic Division. Among other things brought to the attention of the societies, was the sale of Christmas Seals which will open at Thanksgiving. Last year forty thousand of these seals were sold locally, and it is earnestly hoped that this year the sales may reach fifty thousand. The design of the seal this year will differ from those formerly sold in that the usual Red Cross is replaced by the red double cross of the National Tuberculosis Association.

A happy smiling child seated on Santa Claus's shoulders hold this cross aloft, above him are the words, "Merry Christmas 1920" and below "Healthy New Year."

Besides the seals, Health Bonds, in denominations of 5, 10, 25, 50 and 100 will be for sale.

Every Alexandrian interested in making this next year "A Healthy New Year" should determine now to buy a bond or a large quota of Christmas seals when they are placed on sale next month.

Opens Thursday

Red Cross Ready For Membership Campaign.

Alexandrians are one day nearer to being approached for a renewal of their Red Cross Memberships. The campaign begins on Thursday of this week.

Seeing an automobile with the Red Cross insignia on the streets today recalled the wonderful work done in this city by the Red Cross Sanitary Unit during the war. It did more than this, it revealed the fact that Alexandria Chapter purchased the automobile for the use of visiting nurses; the service of these noble women have won the admiration of those to whom they have ministered. The health work being done by the Red Cross is of vital importance to this community. Men and women of Christian character have their neighbors but not all can keep in touch with the whole population and give nourishment and attention to the sick. Every one, however, can contribute one dollar a year to aid in doing the work. It is not possible to get too many members; the larger the membership the more efficient the Red Cross service.

Why not approach a member of the committee and ask to be enrolled. Every one is obligated to do his or her part. Why not add yourself to the roll of Alexandria Chapter?

Realty Transactions

Several Valuable Pieces of Real Estate Change Hands.

Through Graham and Ogden, real estate dealers, Miss Annie Hurville has sold to Herbert J. Baker the two-story brick store and dwelling house 716 King street and they also have sold for L. Morgan Johnston to Charles W. Valentine a house and lot on Harvard street.

Other sales placed on record today in the office of the clerk of court follow: Charles Kicherer to William W. Nicholson a square of ground bounded by Franklin, Gibson, Payne and Fayette streets and Goldie O. Baker to Albert Dreifus a house and lot on the west side of Wolfe street between Duke and Wolfe streets.

ATTENTION FORESTERS.

There will be an important meeting of the Independent Order of Foresters on Thursday night at 7:30. All members are requested to be present. Meeting will be held in lodge room over Alexandria National Bank.

COX EMPHASIZES LEAGUE BENEFITS

Voices Strong Moral and Material Arguments For American Membership

KOBRA IS HUMORIST

Declares Covenant Rejection Will Cause Widespread Business Recession—Pays Tribute to Women

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Preaching his League of Nations gospel today in Northwestern New York, Governor Cox renewed assaults against Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, for alleged "wiggling and wobbling" upon the League issue.

To six large audiences at Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo, and in two rear platform addresses en route, the Democratic Presidential candidate carried his preachment upon the League declaring that it was "inspired by God," and a "pledge" to American soldiers and mothers.

At the Broadway Auditorium and Genesee Hall here last night Governor Cox declared that Senator Harding has made a "flip" in stating that he had been approached "unofficially" by a French representative regarding "a world fraternity."

"The French Government," said Governor Cox, "very promptly and properly denies that there have been any official overtures of any kind. I want to ask Senator Harding whether it is not true that the representative of France was not Maurice DeKobra, of Paris. If this be true, and I have strong reasons for believing that it is, we have an instance of the kind of counsel he will seek in international affairs."

Senator Cox said that Mr. DeKobra, a correspondent for the Paris La Liberte, and who recently traveled with the Governor before going to accompany Senator Harding, was an author and humorist.

"Senator Harding's slip occurred," Governor Cox continued, "in one of his back platform speeches. The statement is impossible by the intellectual guard that has been with him for weeks, was for the moment withdrawn. The statement comes from Marion that no more extensive speaking tour will be made. Obviously, the Republican party insists upon being protected from the blunders of its candidates. The circumstance creates the question as to what protection America can devise against Presidential blunders if Senator Harding should chance to be elected."

Governor Cox reiterated that Senator Harding had taken 13 variant League positions and the Democratic nominee predicted that the American people would not approve an attempt to "wiggle into the Presidency." Governor Cox asked whether, if elected, Senator Harding, in carrying out his proposal for "plural government," would consult with the Johnson-Borah or other groups.

"That a storm, a cyclone of protest from Republican men and women" has followed Senator Harding's Des Moines speech was asserted by Governor Cox to all of his audiences.

"They've followed him until they are dizzy and couldn't any more," the Governor declared.

Charges that the opposition was preventing the voters from reading the League covenant were repeated by the Governor and he reiterated that, if elected, he believed he could agree with the Senate upon ratification. Repeating that he would accept any reservations not harmful to the League, basic principle the Governor said the verdict November 2 would be a "miracle of modernity."

Evangel in New York of a Democratic Senator who would support the League was asked by the Governor in all of his addresses yesterday. Here last night he urged re-election of Governor Smith and paid a tribute of regard to New York's executive.

Large crowds applauded the Governor at all of his meetings. At Rochester he spoke to a civic and anti-convention Hall and also briefly to an overflow crowd. At the latter here last night he was introduced by Representative Mead.

The Governor arrived here more than an hour late and was forced to

NOT YET SCRAPPED.

In view of Senator Harding's statement that he has scrapped the League of Nations and that it is dead beyond the possibility of resurrection, readers are somewhat surprised. One Associated Press dispatch, reported the arrival in Warsaw of the League's Commission of Control, which is visiting the Polish capital "for the purpose of conferring with President Pilsudski, Premier Witos, Foreign Minister Sapieha and others in an attempt to reach a solution of the problem caused by the seizure of the city (Vilna) from the Lithuanians. The commission also is continuing consideration of the Polish-Lithuanian territorial dispute."

The other article contained an illustration of the imposing structure at Genoa which has been purchased by the League, at expense of over $1,000,000, for its semi-permanent home. In this huge building, formerly a hotel, and now rechristened as the Palace of the Nations, the numerous activities of the League will be centered for the immediate future.

Such proofs that the League of Nations is performing the functions for which it was planned are the best possible refutation of Harding jargon about scrapping this great international institution. If the Ohio Senator shall be elected it will be within his power as President to keep the United States out of the League or to ask admission to it under such conditions as the Senatorial oligarchy may instruct him to demand. These may be rejected or accepted by the League. In any case, the position of America will be one of humiliation and mortification to its people. Instead of taking its rightful position as the most powerful nation in the world, and one which is prepared to accept its responsibilities as one of the victors in the recent war, it must sit it the anteroom, along with Germany, Turkey, Russia, Mexico and other non-members and ask to be given the seat which is its by right. It is not the League of Nations, but American honor and pride that the Republican candidate is scrapping these days. The League is alive and kicking, and is already assured of a long and honorable life.

Neglect of Wounded in France is Denied.

The charges made by Dr. Weinberg in Paris that thousands of American soldiers lost their lives by reason of the refusal of American medical officers to use an anti-gangrene serum developed by him at the Pasteur Institute was vigorously denied yesterday by Surgeon General Ireland and members of his staff.

Large quantities of Dr. Weinberg's serum, they say, were used throughout the American Expeditionary Forces. Officers in all base hospitals were instructed to use the serum whenever possible.

These officers said the total number of American soldiers who suffered from gas gangrene was exceedingly small.

220 War Ships To Tour the World.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The two great fleets that the Navy Department plans to send around the world next June will be the most powerful ever assembled under the American flag, it was stated here yesterday. Each will include approximately one hundred and ten ships. This armada is aimed to impress the world with America's naval power.

The Atlantic fleet will include the dreadnaughts Pennsylvania, Arizona, Oklahoma, Nevada, Kansas, Utah, Florida, Delaware, North Dakota, Michigan, South Carolina, Minnesota, and New Hampshire. Enough of battleships will be added to increase the total of first class fighting craft to twenty. Ten cruisers, eighty destroyers and ten auxiliary ships will complete the spectacle.

The most powerful unit in the Pacific fleet will be the new, super-dreadnaught Tennessee. Next will come the superdreadnaughts, Idaho and Mississippi, followed close in gun power by the New Mexico, the only dreadnaught in the world driven by electric power. The dreadnaughts Wyoming, Arkansas, Texas, and New York are assigned to the Pacific fleet, which will include twelve additional battleships.

Eight cruisers, approximately eighty destroyers and ten auxiliary ships will complete the force.

Big Drop in Soft Coal Predicted

New York, Oct. 18.—Predictions that the recent decline in the price of bituminous coal is to be followed by a "much more decided drop within a short time," was made here by Charles S. Allen, secretary of the Wholesale Coal Trade Association of New York.

Mr. Allen said his statement was "based upon a consensus of opinion of members of that association," which, he added, was due to the action this week of Attorney-General Palmer in calling upon the coal operators to take steps to reduce prices and eliminate profiteering."

U. S. Financiers Open Big Sessions Today.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—About 4,000 delegates from all sections of the United States had arrived Sunday night for the forty-sixth annual convention of the American Bankers' Association.

At a meeting Sunday, heads of the five sections of the organization adopted a new constitution, completing control of the sections. The administrative committee and the former presidents of the organization also attended the meeting.

The draft of the new constitution was drawn by M. A. Taylor, chairman of the constitutional revision committee on State legislation. He is president of the First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

The new constitution will go before the general sessions with but few changes, to be adopted by that body.

The adoption Sunday night, after a fight of several hours, means substantially that the various branches hereafter will not function independently of the general body.

After two days of "ironing out" differences between the various sections of the association for presentation to the general sessions of the convention, President Richard S. Hawes and officials of the bankers' organization declared last night that all is in readiness for "firing the big guns" of the convention, which officially opened yesterday.

Long lines of prominent bankers from every section of the country filled past batteries of registration clerks in the various hotels all day yesterday, and the total is now expected to pass the 4,000 mark.

WEDNESDAY THURSDAY

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—It is possible to cross the Atlantic Ocean from New York to Liverpool in three days by steamship.

Joseph Washington Thompson, who bid of $3,000,000 for the ship Leviathan was rejected by the United States Shipping Board, it can be done. Thompson declared yesterday that the syndicate represented had planned to install engines in the Leviathan and it up so that it could cross the ocean in three days. The bid I offered," he said, "was $100,000 down and $2,000,000 in two years. Financial interests backed plan and with the engines to be installed in the ship the three-day trip between New York and Liverpool would have been assured. We plan to carry only storage passengers and mail.

Cop Tells Why of Flirtations.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Short skirts plus low stockings, plus low-necked waists, plus drag stories, complexion equal—a vamp. This problem in moral mathematics was worked out here yesterday by Police Chief Joseph M. Quigley, in discussing the cause and effect of the flirting nuisance.

The chief maintained that if there were no vamps there could be no misdeeds, and that every woman who dresses immodestly comes automatically within the category of a vamp, regardless of what her morals may be.

"So long as women continue to appear in public in costumes which, to say the least, should be reserved for the boudoir, they will be regarded by men as a walking invitation to start a flirtation," Quigley said.

"I do not believe a modestly dressed woman has anything to fear anywhere. I never have been able to figure out why women and girls dress—or rather undress—and paint themselves the way they do. Assuredly most of them are entirely innocent of any wrong motive. But as long as they have the outward appearance of welcoming a flirtation they will be accommodated.

Crooks Don't Tell on Female Pals.

Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—A man crook won't tell on a woman, according to the higher-ups of the Los Angeles police department, who say that's why so few women get into jail.

Opening of the tourist season brings an increase in arrests of bunco men and pickpockets and in many cases the police are satisfied women are implicated, but they can't get the evidence. The men always "stand pat."

The police say this is partly due to man's instinct to protect woman, and partly to the fact that it's pique to have someone on the outside who can bring fruit, cake, cigarettes and other delicacies to a man behind the bars.

There has been only one case in police history of many years where a man blamed a woman, and he was not a professional. Other prisoners sneered at him and did many things to show contempt for "the man who told."

Bluff of Captain Saves U. S. Ship From Hun's Guns.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Although an armistice prevails between Germany and the United States which are still at war, the commander of the American destroyer Broome was recently surprised to find that part of the German navy considers the period of actual hostilities unexpired. He was served with a threat that he would be fired upon if he anchored in Kiel harbor.

The Broome traversed the Kiel Canal en route to the Baltic and received wireless orders at Kiel to await there the arrival of an American cruiser. She applied for a mooring berth, but instead was notified by the German admiral in command of the port that as the United States was still at war, the Broome must depart immediately or she would be fired upon. The destroyer's commander went ashore under escort to the admiral's headquarters where in language understood to have been more forcible than diplomatic, he informed the admiral that he was under orders of his superior officer to remain at Kiel and remain he would, even if his ship were blown out of the water. The admiral reiterated his threat, but evidently thought better thereof for the Broome remained in the harbor and the battle of Kiel passed with nothing more serious than diplomatic broadsides.

Edison Jibed By Humorists.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The announcement that Thomas A. Edison is working on an instrument with which he hopes to establish communication with the dead has not yet provoked much comment in France that can be labeled profound. The humorists are having the first inning and remarks like "Hello Central, give me heaven," already have been resorted to.

A savant in the entourage of Camille Flammarion, after discoursing on the theories and experiments of Sir William Crookes, Abbe Moreux and other scientists on the subject of the beyond, says:

"The invention of Edison will not be likely to convert the skeptics or diminish the numbers of those who believe that the soul lives after the body dies. Each will probably cling to his position with rare exceptions, like Cesare Lombroso, who began by denying the value of all his experiences and ended by being convinced that the soul floats in a material fluid, visible and palpable under certain conditions and continues to belong to the world of matter."

The humorists all express belief in the spirit world, but express doubts that a celestial telephone will work any better than "the sacred telephone system of Paris" that has been the cause of more sulphurous profanity than anything else in our world. One wit expresses his best wishes to Edison and hopes he will achieve success quickly so that certain of those who are still with us but are getting on in years, can arrange to put in early service calls once they arrive on the other side.

BRITAIN COUNTS

ON PUBLIC IN STRIKE

The riot divided into two stages.

First came the demonstrators, thousands of them from each quarter of London, and each group led through the streets by its respective Borough Mayor. These masses of unemployed, gathering hundreds of recruits every block of the march, finally converged on the Victoria embankment, along the river Thames, about a mile from the Houses of Parliament.

Melted together on the embankment the unemployed were expected to wait there, a mile from Parliament, while their Mayors, 15 in number, went to Westminster to confer with Premier Lloyd George, regarding amelioration of the industrial situation.

The Mayors departed. When their leaders were out of sight the demonstrators began to feel their irresponsibility. Instead of keeping a gap of one mile between themselves and Westminster as parades are supposed to do individually by the thousands began to drift toward the Prime Minister's residence.

Before they realized what had happened, the police on post in Whitehall to regulate ordinary traffic found themselves engaged in a tremendous tide of men, women and boys. Feeling their numbers, the representatives in the crowd became unruly and surly. The police ordered that they be cleared out of Whitehall.

Then the riot began, stones flew from out of the crowd and the police drew their riot sticks and swung at the front ranks. But the pressure of oncoming mobs was now so great that these in front could not go back. From Downing street to Trafalgar square, a half a mile, Whitehall was solid with humanity. The mounted police appeared and hurled their horses into the front ranks, swinging their clubs. Men went down and the van of the mob managed to crowd back a short distance. The second stage began then. Muddled by the beatings from the police, the crowds reformed and attacked. The horsemen were hurled back by the weight of the mob. Stones pelted about them and this ammunition was so scarce in that well-kept district that the attackers even dived under the hafts of the horses to recover missiles to hurl again.

On the outskirts of the surge, red flags were waving and hoarse voices took up the chant of the "Internationals" with its refrain of "We'll Keep The Red Flag Flying Here."

What Makes Good Bread?

Of course, the ingredients must be absolutely pure. But the method of mixing must be such that every particle of the gluten strength of the flour is developed.

That's why we lay such stress upon the Corby process—with the Corby patented dough-mixers. They—and they alone—are capable of securing the maximum of the nutrients.

You'll want CORBY BREAD because you will like it.

But you should eat Corby Bread because it furnishes the nutrition needed, in the scientifically correct ratios of the perfectly balanced food.

COX EMPHASIZES

LEAGUE BENEFITS

rush his visit and cancel one address. While in Rochester the Governor laid a wreath on the grave of Susan B. Anthony, woman suffrage pioneer.

Leaving here last night Governor Cox today will campaign New Hampshire, with speeches at Nashua, Manchester and Concord and a night address at Boston.

Special reference to the Irish question was made here last night by Governor Cox, who challenged Senator Harding's position that it was not a matter for "official America."

The Democratic nominee asserted that his opponent had voted against every proposal of self-determination in the Senate from the beginning of his service until now, including every proposal for the freedom of Ireland. "Senator Harding says that this is a domestic question," said the Governor. "That concerns Great Britain and Great Britain only. My judgment is that it has become a world tragedy. I call your attention to the fact that the English papers have been predicting Senator Harding's election and that three days after he expressed himself against the interests of the Irish people, Ballbriggan, in Ireland was turned to the ground by British soldiers, and old men, women and children were rendered homeless. Can it be possible that the Senator's views were accepted as expressions of the American mind? This is becoming a war of extermination." The auditorium audience rivalled in size the crowds he addressed at St. Louis, Kansas City and other large cities. Every seat last night was filled and hundreds were standing.

When he plunged directly into his League argument the Governor was interrupted by the question: "How about the soldiers' bonus?" The candidate reiterated that he favored giving ex-service men a "farm and a home" from the Government domain or the four-fold plan of the American Legion.

Prolonged applause greeted the Governor's statements on the Irish question, especially when he declared that the situation in Ireland was "a war of extermination and the conscience of the world is beginning to revolt against it."

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Pains Start to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed all druggists to guarantee it in every instance.

"NU-FAB" GLOVES

This is a novel departure in the line of gloves.

A Distinctly Different Suede Fabric Glove

It is an American made glove, made of a non-absorbent, water-repellent, spot proof and dust proof fabric—treated by the new "Tatelec" process of waterproofing. But this is not rubberized, nor surface treated. This process thoroughly impregnates the structure of the material, making possible both dry cleaning or washing in cold water.

Ventilation for comfort and hygiene is not destroyed or decreased, as the pores of the warp and welt of the cloth are left open.

George J. Stivers and Marcus Bassett, the escaped Sing Sing prisoners, in the work of the night, carrying off, with two accomplices, desperate and feverish for liberty, are more than 100 men of a pursuing posse, bent on catching the prisoners before they do further harm.

The race between the two is leading straight to the Canadian border, where the two convicts expect freedom. The whole chase has taken on the semblance of a movie thriller

Since Saturday night when the two made their break for liberty from Sing Sing after felling three keepers in a hand-to-hand struggle, their trail has been one of robbery and intimidation.

The fugitives when last seen were in a stolen automobile and wore civilian clothes, taken from their owners at pistol point. They were headed in the direction of Bridgeport, Conn., which was a doubling in their course.

Warden Lawes of the Sing Sing Prison last night issued a warning to all the police departments in Southern New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts that the runaway convicts were still roaming through Connecticut.

The fifty dollar reward for the capture of each prisoner was doubted last night by the warden.
